Father's Column

Jesus told his disciples : "stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour."

What makes a person drowsy and falling asleep? The answer is: Exhaustion. Boredom. Inactivity. What keeps us alert and awake? An interesting and challenging task. Engaging interaction with persons we enjoy or who inspires us. The answer is: The pressure of a deadline.

What keeps us alert and awake for the Second Coming of Christ? The task of active waiting. The engaging interaction with Christ and members of his Body. The deadline of Christ's return at the end of time.

"The kingdom of heaven will be like" the community of the Church awaiting the return of Christ, the Bridegroom, in final glory. Some in the community are wise. They are alert, awake, prepared, engaged, persistent. Some in the community are wise, they are alert, awake, prepared, engaged, persistent. Some in the community are foolish. They are drowsy, inattentive, thoughtless, detached, languid. When Christ comes at midnight, the time of deepest darkness, the wise meet the Light with their light and are admitted to the wedding feast, the foolish remain locked outside in darkness.

As we await the coming of Christ, sometimes we are wise and sometimes, foolish. We are wise when we make daily choices in line with Gospel values, cultivate a strong relationship with Christ through prayer and attentiveness to the needs of others, remain faithful despite the ordinary ups downs of Gospel living.

We are foolish when we.....

Eucharistic Miracles

Fiecht, Austria - 1310

In 1310, a well-known Eucharistic Miracle occurred at the Monastery of St. Georgenberg in Fiecht, Austria. During Mass the priest was filled with doubts about the Real Presence of Jesus in the consecrated elements of bread and wine. Immediately after the consecration, the wine changed into blood and began to boil and overflow out of the Chalice. In 1472, Bishop Georg Von Brixen sent a team to study the phenomenon. As a result of the investigation, the Miracle was declared authentic. In 1480, after 170 years, the Sacred Blood was examined again and declared "Fresh as though coming out of the womb." To this day, the Precious Blood remains intact in a reliquary at the Monastery of St. Georgenberg.
